Module Aims

The Individual Project/dissertation aims to consolidate your learning in previous stages by bringing you to a level appropriate to undertake a piece of individual in-depth research through the use of established research techniques and scholarship relevant to your degree/discipline.

Outline Syllabus

Through a combination of library sessions and interactive lectures, this module introduces you to features relevant to different project/dissertation formats (e.g. based on desk research only, or based on desk research and empirical social research). Research and data collection approaches will be explored with a view to illustrating the skills that are needed to successfully plan and complete a project/dissertation within the broad area of the social and management sciences. The relevance of literature searching and literature reviews along with more practical issues, such as working with your supervisor, time management, planning workloads, aspects linked with ethics as well as oral/written skills will be covered in this module.

Module Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this module, students will be able to...

- 1 Demonstrate in depth knowledge and a systematic, academically informed understanding of a selected topic relevant to your degree.
- 2
  - 2a Contextualise in depth knowledge within current academic debates
  - 2b Produce a project/dissertation proposal as a means to developing and refining your ideas which will feed into a more substantive research based project.
  - 2c Identify, access and critically evaluate/review the relevant data and literature in systematic manner.
- 3
  - 3a Carry out and present original research and/or produce original materials relevant to your degree.
  - 3b Develop, reflect upon and modify your time management and problem solving capacities.
  - 3c Work with a supervisor in order to plan a scheme of work from inception to completion.

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy

Through a combination of lectures, tutorials and the support of a named supervisor, you are expected to undertake in depth research in order to produce analytic and developed written work in an area relevant to your degree programme. (LO: 1a, 2a, 2b, 2c, 3a, 3b, 3c).

In the contact sessions, you will be asked to take an active role by contributing to large and small group discussions as a means of further developing your ideas. (LO: 3a, 3b, 3c).

The project proposal and final dissertation assess all the module learning outcomes.

(LO: 1a, 2a, 2b, 2c, 3a, 3b, 3c).
