Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
The focus is on the application of knowledge and active learning during class time, with students acquiring knowledge independently outside class time with the assistance of guided reading and a blended approach of on-line lectures and tutorials and face to face tutorials. We use a team-based learning approach. Some in class sessions will incorporate both formative and summative assessment, group discussions, feedback and mini lectures. All teaching and learning is supported by information (including the module handbook) provided on Canvas, our virtual learning environment. You will be assessed both individually and in teams on your core knowledge using primarily multiple choice questions (LOs 1,3,5,6) and on your application of knowledge in team application exercises (LOs 1to 6) using both multiple choice questions and some written individual and/or team answers. There will also be an end of module exam including a seen case study which will assess your individual knowledge, application and written communication skills (LOs 1,2,3,4,5).
