Module Aims
This module aims to allow business and management students to explore together the importance of ethical considerations and how they impact on our understanding of both law and business and management practices. It also provides students with opportunities to learn about the key legal concepts and principles relevant to business.

Outline Syllabus
The relationship between law, morality and ethics. Basic legal principles as they apply in a business setting including Contract formation and enforcement. Basic torts such as negligence and Basic Company law.

Learning Outcomes
Outcome Number	Description
01	Describe legal institutions, legal rules and legal principles as they apply in a business context
02	2.1 Apply legal and business knowledge to solve legal and business related problems 2.2 Act as an ethical professional who is aware of the cultural and social contexts in which law and business operate and is responsive to changing environments

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
Formal Taught sessions will be supported by on-line resources and specific support from the sponsoring organisation as appropriate. This module is taught in a one week block supplemented by work based tasks. In workshop sessions you will be presented with a problem which will have business, legal and ethical implications and issues. Some workshops will have some limited lecture input but tutors will facilitate discussions and debates and help you explore the issues raised.. Assessment is individual written coursework .
