

Module Details
Module Title	Research in International Nursing Studies
Module Code	RES7021-E
Academic Year	2022/3
Credits	60
School	School of Allied Health Professions and Midwifery
FHEQ Level	FHEQ Level 7

Contact Hours
Type	Hours
Independent Study	492
Seminars	15
Lectures	15
Tutorials	78

Availability
Occurrence	Location / Period
BDA	University of Bradford / Non-Standard Academic Year

Module Aims
Support students to design, plan, carry out and produce a written report of a research project, that may be either a primary or secondary research project in the field of international nursing studies.

Outline Syllabus
Week 1: Introduction to the module its assessment and academic supervision processes Week 2: Ethics: University of Bradford requirements, NHS requirements, international ethics considerations Week 3: Using the University library: identifying and retrieving literature; logging research results; Harvard (Brad) style referencing including use of referencing management tools such as EndNote Week 4: Structuring your dissertation; including drafting and editing work of considerable length Week 5: Writing for dissemination and publication Week 6: Assessment preparation

Learning Outcomes
Outcome Number	Description
1	Critically discuss the rationale for, plan, design and carry out a specific research project in the field of international nursing studies. Students will be expected to include their reasons for the professional interest in their research project?s focus.
2	Demonstrate appropriate awareness and management of ethical dimensions in undertaking a specific research project in the field of nursing.
3	Produce a written account of their own specific research project undertaken including a critical and cogent account of its research methodology, design and data collection methods, means of data analyses, research findings, conclusions and how these may impact international nursing practice.

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
Face-to-face/online lectures: information will be presented and discussed with support of Powerpoint presentations. Face-to-face/online seminars and group discussions: learning through interpretation and critical application of information. Face-to-face/online tutorials will take place throughout the module, 12 hours of tutorials will be conducted on a one to one basis. The remaining 66 hours will be group tutorials. Use of the University?s virtual learning environment: Canvas Directed study Formative: 20% of assessment items prepared for summative assessment Summative: Written account of research project undertaken (12 000 words)

Mode of Assessment
Type	Method	Description	Weighting
Summative	Dissertation or Project Report	Project Report (12000 words)	100%
Formative	Dissertation or Project Report	20% of draft work for dissertation or project report (2400 words)	N/A

Reading List
To access the reading list for this module, please visit https://bradford.rl.talis.com/index.html

Please note:

This module descriptor has been published in advance of the academic year to which it applies. Every effort has been made to ensure that the information is accurate at the time of publication, but minor changes may occur given the interval between publishing and commencement of teaching. Upon commencement of the module, students will receive a handbook with further detail about the module and any changes will be discussed and/or communicated at this point.

© University of Bradford 2022

<https://bradford.ac.uk>